Many Activities Slated for Closing Days of Fall Term

Staff & Key Will Name All-American At Formal Dance

The traditional All-American Formal, given by Staff & Key for the OCE students, will be one of the crowning events of the term. Bob Edson and his band from Oregon State college will provide music for the evening.

Under the able guidance of Bev. Bluhm, the various committees are busy making preparations for the big event to take place Saturday, December 8, at 9 p.m. in the PE building. Committees are as follows: Decorations, Karen Ashley, Sharon Watson, Colleen Meachum, Jeanette Spinney and Liz Krautscheid; invitations, Loretta Twombly, Ruth Schweitzer and Glenda Hamar; refreshments, Darlene Gruchow and Lonnie Lamb; programs, Audrey Arrington and Delores LaFountaine; cloak room, Trudy Shank; publicity, Lois Smith and Virginia Senters; band, Jane Long, Deanne Bauman, Carolyn White and Bev. Bluhm; entertainment, Merle Soultis and Bev. Bluhm.

All students, faculty members, and the public are cordially invited to attend. Price of admission will be $1.25 per couple.

If you are interested in the theme of the dance or in the All-American selection, you will have to attend the dance, since they are secret.

OCE Student Health Office Announces Vaccine Schedule

Miss Edith Olson, director of the OCE student health service, has announced that poliomyelitis vaccine will be given on Tuesday, December 11, at 1 p.m. in the health service office. The same schedule used previously will be posted. All students who were given the first injection of vaccine during the week of November 13 should return for the second dose on December 11. Students should bring receipts for the fees.

Those who have had the first dose of vaccine given at a later date in November should make an appointment at the health service for their second injection.

Students who wish to take their first injection should come Tuesday afternoon, December 11. Each should be sure that a signed request card is on file in the health service prior to that date. The second injection for this group will be given in January.

Attention, Drama Fans!

Rest from the examination finals by attending the movie "Hamlet," starring Laurence Olivier and Jean Simmons at 8 p.m., December 14, in Campbell hall's auditorium. Shakespeare's immortal classic, the tragedy of Hamlet, a man of thought who failed as a man of action, is magnificently brought to the screen in a widely acclaimed performance by one of the world's great actors. This two hour showing is free to the students and faculty.

OCE Plays Host To Performers

A concert was presented at Oregon College of Education last Monday in Campbell hall auditorium by the Transcribers Society for the Blind of Scottsdale, Arizona. The program included a demonstration of the Braille system of writing, steps in making Braille books, and a concert of organ, piano, and accordion music by Richard Smith, a blind artist from Van Nuys, California. Richard tours with the Transcribers Society giving these concerts in many high schools and colleges throughout the North and Midwestern states in order to better acquaint students with the capabilities of the blind. Aside from the various talents he displayed in concert, he also plays the bass fiddle, drums, the steel guitar, harmonica, and ukelele.

"It is my hope," said Richard, "that through these programs, myself and other young men and women like me will not be asked time and again, 'how should blind people be treated?' We don't want to be 'treated' any different than anyone else."

The Transcribers Society employs the blind to copy Braille books, this furnishing needed employment to many blind transcribers. After the books are bound they become a part of the society's large national library and are sent by mail, free of charge, to any blind person in the United States or Canada.

The Portland Trio also presented a concert last week. The Trio appeared last Wednesday evening in Campbell hall auditorium. The Portland group, com-

Plans Made to Attend Model U.N.

Preparations are being made to send a delegation of six OCE students to the Model United Nations which will be held on the campus of Stanford university. Students interested in attending the conference will be required to take and pass a test concerning current affairs, policies and procedures of the United Nations, and parliamentary procedure. Delegates will be chosen on the basis of scores from the test which will be given. The OCE student council has appropriated money to pay partial expenses of these students, but additional expenses will run an estimated $20 per person.

Choir To Present Vesper Service

The public is cordially invited to attend OCE's annual Vesper Service, Sunday, December 16, at 4 p.m.

For centuries the peoples of the earth have created in spring literature and song which relive during this universal season.

The college's Vesper Service will follow the traditional presentation of word and song which embraces the Christmas-time. Both secular and sacred selections will be sung by the college choir. The program also offers organ and brass ensemble arrangements in the same yule spirit. Everyone should make it a point to come.

Fall Play To Be Presented in CH December 6 & 7

"Father of the Bride," a stage-comedy detailing the uproarious incidents involved in a family when a daughter prepares for a wedding, will be given its final rehearsal December 4 and will be ready for the students, faculty, and public at 8 p.m., December 6 and 7, in the Oregon College of Education Campbell hall auditorium. The players will be ready to present a hilarious and heart-warming story of a doting father and his trials and tribulations during his daughter's premarital period. The laugh-filled action revolves about the shocks sustained by the girl's papa from the time she announces her engagement until the moment he proudly sets out with her for the church where he is to give her away.

In the parts of the father and the bride, played by Spencer Tracy and Elizabeth Taylor in the movie, George Davidson and Delores Meyers give warm and chuckling performances, with Deanne Bauman providing expert team-work as the knowing and understanding mother, who is almost equally harassed but who really enjoys having a big wedding for her child. Keith Schulz makes a likeable groom, Ray Bartley and Jack Little are attractive as the bride's kid brothers, and Sam MacIntosh and Coleen Pedersen turn in fine performances in lesser roles.

The play is directed with taste, pace and craftsmanship by Mr. George Harding.

SEE YOU AT THE ALL-AMERICAN FORMAL

Grab your date and go to the All-American Formal! Every term when a formal dance comes up, the main problem is, "How will we get more students to attend our formals?" It isn't an easy problem to solve, for the answer is up to each and every individual. In fact, the support of the formal dances is the responsibility of you as a student of OCE.

The college has made the attendance at these dances so simple that it seems a shame that more people do not go. Admission is only $1.25, less than the admission to a public dance, and corsages are not absolutely necessary. Refreshments are served at the dance eliminating the necessity of extra refreshments.

Where else can you have an evening of fun for less than $1.25? We'll see you at the All-American Formal!!!! —F.F.

SCHOOL PRIDE ?

During the past term a majority of the OCE student body has displayed an attitude of indifference toward extra-curricular activities, which has been detrimental rather than constructive. Many individuals have neglected their responsibilities of helping to uphold the traditions of the school and have left this work to a select few. Many of these people who feel they have no time to contribute to committee work, are the first to complain when their favorite school function is discontinued from lack of participation and interest.

It is an insult for a performer, who has been invited to OCE, to be confronted with a huge audience of only 30 people. This type of turnout shows a lack of interest and school pride. Many artists have left OCE after appearing before one of our "tremendous" audiences convinced that the school lacked hospitality and common courtesy.

It has been an old acknowledged tradition that OCE is a "hospitable and friendly" college. Since the beginning of this fall term some students have nearly succeeded in establishing a new tradition for OCE — a tradition of laziness and indifference. Are we going to sacrifice a hundred years of favorable tradition for three months' stolidity?

Let's evaluate and re-organize our student policies, and make winter term, 1957, superior in every way with new creative and constructive student attitudes. Let's Function! —V.F.C. - R.E.K.

HIGH DEEDS FOR HUNGARIANS

The revolution that has been taking place in Hungary has stirred the hopes of the entire world. Brave men and women have risked everything in a bold bid for freedom. Among the fighters in this revolution have been great numbers of college students. Students who, if they were fortunate enough to have been born in a land of freedom such as ours, might well be cheering for the school team instead of dodging Soviet soldiers.

A number of former students have escaped across the border to freedom. These students need our help. The vast majority of them have lost almost all their personal belongings. They desperately need clothing and food.

One group of students has set up a "university in exile" in Austria. They have appealed to American colleges and universities for textbooks. We can all do our part to aid these valiant fighters for freedom. This Tuesday there will be an after-game dance held in Maple hall. The admission price will be one used textbook or one article of clothing, or twenty-five cents. —G.L.H.

To Present Program

A group of students from Cascade college will present a program to the OCE chapter of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship at 8 o'clock tonight in the faculty lounge.

The program consisting of an address by Dale Hoekstra entitled, "How the Christian Experience and Life Helps the Classroom Teacher," and vocal selections by Miriam Puckett, soloist, and The Gospels Trio consisting of Betty Martin, Arlys Kosanke, and Berneice Kosanke, is sponsored by Deloris Meyers, LaJuana Pike and Glenna Peck,

OCE Plans to Aid Hungarian Students

The Oregon College of Education is formulating plans to bring several Hungarian students to the campus winter term. Local civic, church and fraternal leaders are being contacted in a fund-raising drive. We should like to urge all clubs and individuals at OCE to contribute to this fund if at all possible. Give a little or a lot. Every bit helps. A jar will be set up in Campbell hall for your donations.

former students at Cascade college. Everyone is invited.

Scheduling for Winter Term Is Announced

The OCE registrar's office has announced that pre-scheduling for the winter term will begin on Tuesday, December 4, and end on Friday, December 7. The purpose of pre-scheduling is to permit students and advisers to plan schedules in a thoughtful and orderly fashion, away from the rush of registration, and to facilitate the final registration procedure. It is hoped that all students will make appointments in advance with their advisers and obtain approval of their schedules for the winter term. Students who fail to pre-schedule will not be permitted to register until 2 p.m. on January 2.

A. The procedure for freshmen, sophomores and juniors is as follows:

1. Obtain two copies of yellow study list from registrar's office.
2. Prepare a trial study schedule in duplicate prior to conferences with adviser.
3. After discussion of schedule with adviser (making any necessary changes in schedule), adviser will sign one copy and return it to student, and retain one copy for his files.
4. Student will present signed copy of schedule at registrar's office and obtain registration material. Students approved for Teacher Education should present blue admission card for proper registration materials. (See note.) All registration cards should be completed and retained by student until registration day, Wednesday, January 2.

Note: No student will be admitted to professional courses (with exception of Ed. 310, School in American Life and Phy. 311, Human Development) unless he has received his blue admission card.

B. The procedure for seniors is as follows:

The change in registration that was made last year will be continued, making it possible for seniors to register in their class sections prior to registration day. (Seniors should give class roll cards to instructors at time of pre-scheduling.) Heretofore seniors have many times been unable to schedule their final requirements and have been unable to take the electives that they have long wanted because underclassmen have been admitted to these courses.

Note: In order that seniors may be identified, the registrar's office will stamp "Senior" on the yellow study list when the student calls for his registration material.

1. Complete steps A1, A2, A3, and A4 as described above.
2. Show study list to instructors so that they may know you are a senior, and leave class roll cards with instructors. Be sure instructor signs your main white schedule card when accepting the class roll card. This constitutes your admission to a class section.

3. After giving class roll cards to instructors, return to adviser for final approval, at which time adviser will sign white schedule card.

4. Hold remaining registration materials for housing approval, health check, and payment of fees on January 2.

Registration will be held in the gymnasium from 8:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Wednesday, January 2. With the exception of new students and pre-scheduled seniors, students will be registered in alphabetical blocks according to the following schedule:

8:30-10 a.m.—L to R (and seniors who have pre-scheduled)
10 a.m. to 12 noon—A to K.
1-3 p.m.—S to Z (and all new students.)

Students who failed to pre-schedule will not be permitted to register until 2 p.m.

Fees will be paid in the business office in the Administration building from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m.

Student body cards will be checked at the entrances of the gymnasium so that students will register at the scheduled time.

HOME CURED HAMS by Lynn Huston

The number of hams—and other aspiring entertainers—who recently auditioned for the high school visitations troupe were very few. Of all the freshmen in school, we had exactly four who showed at Campbell hall and gave it a try.

But at least the beef covers the ham . . .

Fortunately, we have back from last year much of our home cured ham. Standbys such as Bob Barnes, whose stomach Steinway with 3-D flexibility has gained him much note in the state; and Dolly Eclipse, whose hips have the same flexibility, has institutionalized the hula as an art in high schools throughout Oregon.

Forsaking nostalgia for a while and getting to the present, we wish to advertise that the high school visitations troupe is not completely complete. We still need a couple of MC's and will take on new acts until the end of this term. Let us know what you have or would like to do.

Drop a note in S.P.O. box 616 or have a chat with Lynn Huston at Maaske hall or with Mickey Rogers at Todd hall.

NOTICE:

Seniors are reminded that credential papers should be completed and returned to the placement office before the end of this term.

IRC ACTIVITIES

Christmas will be stressed at tonight's International Relations club meeting to be held in room 208 of the Ad. building. Miss Mary Donaldson will address the group and present her views on "My Impressions of the Land of the First Christmas." Miss Donaldson is a teaching supervisor at Henry Hill grade school in Independence. Slides will be shown depicting scenes from the Holy Land. This is to be the last meeting of the fall term.

Mr. Charles Noxon, adviser for the IRC, presented last week's topic to the group. The topic concerned next summer's foreign study tour which will include the British Isles and all of the Scandinavian countries.

Two weeks ago the club participated in a Northwest Regional Conference which included IRC delegations from many colleges in the Northwest. The theme of the conference was "Allies or Neutrals: The Future of the American and Russian Alliance Systems." Host college for the event was Reed college of Portland. Different guest speakers were a featured part of the program and round-table discussion groups and panels completed the curriculum for the conference. Those attending the week-end conference from OCE were: Don Wiens, Keith Richard, Virginia Chapman, Jack Williamson, Dick Unruh, Judy Jeffries, Shirley Kirtz, Maerice Wood, Ron Rainsbury and Mr. Noxon.

OFF-CAMPUS POT-LUCK

The off-campus pot-luck was a big success. Dinner was served at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 30, in Maple hall. A casserole dinner with salads, vegetables, coke, pie and coffee was served. The championship fights on TV served as the dinner entertainment. Later, a record dance was held. Shirley Solstrom and Merl Saults served on the food committee. Jean Lauman served as publicity chairman and the set-up and clean-up committee consisted of Mary Bemis, Helen Bergeron, Nancy Goodrich, Marilyn Chandler and Nadine Reif.

Swamp Stomp Gives Fair Sex Upper-Hand

Bonnie Schultz and H. T. Walters were selected as most eligible spinster and bachelor, respectively, the choice was announced at the "Swamp Stomp."

Sadie Hawkins' day was celebrated by OCE students with a costumed dance held Saturday, November 17. The biggest girl-date-boy affair of the year, the dance was enjoyed by many couples. Everyone made themselves at home in their new surroundings, which consisted of a big mossy swamp full of the most erie insects and animals including a huge alligator crawling out of a pool. An odd assortment of Al Capp characters were present for the hill-billy stomp with ladies, of course, attempting to corner the males of their choice. Drinks and eats were served from the "mossy" saloon, which proved to be an extremely popular place.

Prizes were awarded for the "swampiest" costumes. Ann Murray, a freshman from McMinnville, was selected for the best-dressed Daisy Mae and Bill Boring, a sophomore from Salem, won top honors as the best-dressed Dogpatch male. The big highlight of the evening was the announcement of Bonnie Schultz, a sophomore from Junction City, as the most eligible spinster, and H. T. Walters, junior form Marcola, who was voted the most eligible bachelor.

The dance was sponsored jointly by Collecto Coeds and Wolf Knights.

Sports of Sorts

BY RUSS BAGLIEN

Last Friday's OCE pep assembly showed considerable talent and flexibility on the part of OCE's rally squad. The skit featured the probable starting lineup against Pacific and was quite original and quite amusing. And the dancing rhythm of the gal rally squad! The gals have worked out some clever routines that are sure to catch the fancy of OCE basketball crowds.

And, speaking of the pep assembly, the general over-all spirit of the turn-out was very good. The hour, 11 o'clock, that the assembly was held was probably largely responsible for the sizeable turn-out. Quite different from the handful who were on hand for the final football rally of the season. For our money, pep assemblies, at the 11 o'clock hour, should be held at least twice a month. Once a week would be even better. The true value of an athletic program cannot be attained unless the entire student body has a part in it.

WITTE BRINGS HONOR TO OREGON

The selection of Oregon State tackle John Witte on the Colliers', International News Service, and United Press All-American teams, has certainly done no harm to the state of Oregon's football program. And, having seen Witte perform in person and on TV, we can safely say that his selection was no fluke. He played rugged, inspired football for the Beavers and he played no small part in bringing a Rose Bowl bid to the state of Oregon for the first time since 1942. Associated Press, Look Magazine, and a few other news medias, have not come out with their A-A teams yet, but a good guess is that Witte will be on them, too. Perhaps the All-American selection boards took a good look at the number of ex-Oregon and Oregon State players going great guns in the pro ranks this year and decided that perhaps there were a few players in our state who should start getting recognition.

JACK MORRIS VASTLY UNDERRATED

After viewing the Oregon-OSC game at Corvallis on Thanksgiving day, we have become more staunchly convinced that Webfoot fullback Jack Morris is the most underrated football player on the coast. The writer had the pleasure of being sports editor of the Keesler Air Force Base NEWS when Jack was playing on the Keesler Tarpon football team in 1951 and we were convinced at that time that he was one of the finest backfield men we had ever laid eyes on. Keesler's team that season won 10 of 11 games and Morris played both offense and defense on a team that was loaded with football players who had been stars at their respective colleges. To name a few, the ends were Billy Wilson (now of the San Francisco 49'ers) and Kit Carson (also in the pro ranks), one of the tackles was Chuck Cereke of Michigan, the defensive safety man was Kenny Konz of Louisiana State, now the safety man for the Cleveland Browns, and there were many others who were college stars whose names escape us for the moment.

Morris led the team in rushing and scoring and was a bearcat on defense. He was the only member of the team who played both offense and defense consistently. Clark Shaughnessy, the old master of the T formation, was a frequent visitor to Keesler and he remarked several times that Morris was ready for the pros then, even though he had only a year of freshman football at Oregon behind him. Against Oregon State, Morris must have been in on 50 percent of the tackles, in addition to catching the game-tying TD pass and booting the extra point that gave the Ducks a 14-14 tie. Duck quarterback Tom Crabtree remarked after the game that the Oregon quarterbacks must have had rocks in their head all season for not throwing to Morris more often. The fullback pass pattern had been there all season, but the Ducks hadn't used it until Crabtree threw to Morris in the waning moments of the game. At Keesler, we can recall Morris catching two TD passes of better than 50 yards in the fourth quarter to give Keesler a win over Fort Campbell, Kentucky. Whoever quarterbacks the Oregon eleven in 1957 would do well to keep Morris in mind as a receiver. He catches anything he gets his hands on and he has a nasty habit (nasty for opponents) of outrunning the safety man.

What more can you ask of a football player than Jack Morris gives? He was Oregon's leading ground gainer, punter, kickoff artist and extra point specialist (tied the PCC records for consecutive extra points with 23)

Five Named to OGC All-Star Team

The Klamath Falls Herald-News, in conjunction with radio station KFLW, has released its 1956 Oregon Collegiate Conference all-star team, naming three OCE players to the first team and two to the second team.

Barry Adams, behemoth Wolfpack tackle, guard Jack Knudsen and halfback Wyman Gernhart rated first team honors. Second team honors went to end Doug Zitek and center Pat McManus.

Knudsen made the first squad for the second year in a row and Adams was a unanimous choice at the tackle post. Other unanimous choices were quarterback Bill Seymour of Southern Oregon College and halfback Elvin Daggett of Eastern Oregon College.

Tremendous line play by Adams and Knudsen earned them their first team berths. Gernhart gained the selection on the basis of his overall offensive and defensive ability. He was third in the conference in rushing with 647 yards to his credit.

First team selections:

Ends: Al VanLeuven (OTT) and Jack Harmon (EOC).

Tackles: Adams (OCE) and Steve Johnson (EOC).

Guards: Knudsen (OCE) and John Garrett (SOC).

Center: Weldon Lewis (EOC).

Backs: Seymour (SOC), Gernhart (OCE), Daggett (EOC) and Bill West (EOC).

BASKETBALL

Daryl Girod, OCE's playmaking guard from Salem, has been named captain of the 1956-57 Wolfpack squad by a vote of his teammates. Girod will be serving his second year as captain of the Wolves, having held that honor last season.

Coach Bob Livingston, in announcing the selection of Girod as team captain, called the ex-Salem prepper "one of the best small college players in the Northwest," adding that Girod's savvy and cool-headedness would give the Wolves a top-notch floor captain.

Last season with the Wolves Girod was the leading playmaker on the club and finished fourth in individual scoring. He also ranked high in rebounding, despite his lack of size (6-0).

The Wolves opened their 1956-57 campaign last Saturday night at Forest Grove where they met Pacific's Badgers. First home game will be tomorrow night against Linfield. The Wolves failed to win from either of these two teams in home-and-home games last season.

WRA VOLLEYBALL

The WRA intermural volleyball squad defeated a Linfield team last Thursday evening in the OCE gym, scoring a 28 to 25 win. The WRA team will meet Willamette girls for a play-off on Thursday evening, December 6, and will also attend the "Valley-Eleven" sports day at Linfield college on December 8.

Dick Quinn (EOC), Don Dorns (SOC) and Dick Edwards (PSC).
